FROM KITCHEN TO THRONE.—We read of peculiar things happening in life, and a wise man should be surprised at nothing. In like manner a comely and modest woman has often a fortune in her face if she knows how beauty should become her. To wit: During the troubles in the reign of King Charles I., a country girl came up to London in search of a place as servant maid; but not succeeding, she applied herself to carrying out beer from a brewhouse, and was one of those then called tub-women. The brewer, observing a well-looking girl in this low occupation, took her into his family as a servant, and after a while, she behaving with so much prudence and decorum, he married her; he died when she was yet a young woman and left her a large fortune. The business of the brewery was dropped, and the young woman was recommended to Mr. Hyde as a gentleman of skill in law to settle her affairs. Hyde (who was afterwards the great Earl of Clarendon), finding the widow's fortune very considerable, married her. Of this marriage there was no other issue, than a daughter, who was afterwards the wife of James II., and mother of Mary and Anna, Queens of England.

Walking Absurdities.

We don't suppose all the men who have walked five hundred miles in six days have done the world and humanity as much good as the obscure man who has sowed and sown a cord of wood in half the time. We don't suppose these walkers have awakened a single aspiration in the breasts of men that has resulted in any physical benefit. It certainly does not benefit the man who walks the five hundred miles in six days, and goes off the track a physical wreck, worn out, jaded, full of aches and pains, in splendid condition to be defeated the next time he walks. There is no necessity for such walking in these days. A horse can travel faster than a man, and the locomotive can still travel faster than the horse. If a man has occasion to make a journey of five hundred miles, he does not spend six months training so that he can walk the distance in six days. He gets into the sleeping car, goes to bed and sleeps to find himself there when the porter calls him in the morning. If he wishes to send a message that distance, he does not hire a pedestrian to carry it for him, he goes to the telegraph office, and the message is transmitted in less time than it takes to walk to the office. Physical culture and development is a good thing, but the physical development is not reached by physical abuse. If the five hundred miles of a young man's walking are spread over five months instead of six days, and it is done out in the open air, on winding paths through meadow and forest instead of on tank track in a crowded building, in a stifling atmosphere of bad breath and tobacco smoke, it will do him some good; it will bring him health, strength, good color, and good temper. The trouble with most young men in their physical education is a woeful lack of system. They exercise violently one day and do nothing the next. They might as well eat their meals only every other day. We are tired of these useless walking matches that are merely brutal exhibitions of painful suffering and endurance.—Burlington Hawkeye.

ONLY A HANDFUL LEFT.—The few remaining Veterans of the War of 1812 attending service in St. Paul's Church yesterday morning. The presence of the mere handful of gray-haired men who, in days long past, shouldered arms in defense of their country, excited interest among the congregation. There were eight of these soldiers, and they occupied General Washington's large square pew on the aisle to the right of the entrance. Their names and ages are as follows: General Abraham Dalley, 86; David Van Arsdale, 81; Samuel Ryckman, 87; Michael Van Name, 84; Edward Duryee, 84; Charles Oakley, 91; Gardner Selbridge, 78; and Thomas Blank, 95.

They were under escort of Adjutant J. Gould Warner, descendant of one of the veterans. The morning services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Thompson and Rev. Mr. Mulchey, and at their close the veterans were surrounded by members of the congregation who piled them with questions as to their war experience. To-day the Veterans will meet and drive up town. They were all in good spirits, and expressed a hope that they might be at the church again next year.—New York Star.

In the Berkshire hills there was a funeral. The woman who mingles curiosity with pity was there with the mourners. To the afflicted widow, in a melancholy voice, she said:
"When did you get your new eight-day clock?"
"I ain't got no new eight-day clock," responded the bereaved woman.
"Why, what is that in the corner? ain't that an eight-day clock?" persisted the curious visitor.
"No, that ain't a clock; that's the deceased. We stood it on end in the corner to make room for the mourners."

The effects of the ear are wonderful. Chimes in olden times were placed around the necks of children to preserve them from the "evil eye." The coral hand and thumb, called by the Portuguese ago, attached to a string of coral beads, is a charm. Elioda, in his "Histor Amina," says that birds putting themselves from the "evil eye" by deftly certain herbs and leaves of trees in their nests, particularly the kite, crow, turtle-dove, vulture and many others mentioned by Pliny. The posterity of Joseph was said to be exempt from it. It was considered a disease in the olden times.

A Frenchman who was around town early the other morning singing "My heart is in the Highlands," was told by the watchful guardian of the night, that his body would be in the police station if he did not keep quiet.

When you see four or five children, who need combing, washing and patching holding a convention, on the front step, you have come to a house where the mother paints pottery.

It is easy enough to find plenty of men who think the world owes them a living, but too hard to find a chap who is willing to own up that he collected the debt in full.

An Ohio girl sued a man for breach of promise, and proved him such a mean scoundrel that the jury decided she ought to pay him something for not marrying her.

A FINE FOR TOBACCO-SMOKING.—Smoking is essentially an American taste. It is in harmony with our climate and our habits. It relieves the blues and it stimulates reflection. We pride ourselves on our reflective qualities. These qualities can never receive justice so complete as at the hands of the tobacco-smoker. Smoking collects the thoughts, combines ideas, quietly lays down phrases in logical order. It invests poetic fancy with a great halo, and incubates invention in its genial exhalations. As the magicians of old burnt herbs and produced from their vapors an image of magic beauty, a scene of the future, or the eidolon of a distant present, so does this necromantic herb of modern days, with its varied powers, support the exertions of genius, evolve thoughts from eminent minds, and silently co-operate in great labors. From all times, smoking is said to have existed in one shape or another. On the carvings from Nineveh, a man may be seen enjoying an instrument much like a pipe; and the prevalence of the practice in different regions, forbids the assumption of a common origin. Narcotic, are secondary necessities of human life. Tobacco, opium, or the betel nut, supply this want to the different races of men. Civilization adheres to tobacco as a middle course. Among its uses smoking is the most creditable. Snuffing or chewing are as ignoble as they are dirty. Fire, the great purifier, redeems the smoker from the less pleasant form of his pursuit.

FLOWERS.—They sanctify the cradle, the altar and the tomb. What can compare to them in beauty and purity. The little flowers which, in classic story, sprang up through the hard stones of the poor prisoner's cell, diffusing such sweetness and content about the living tomb, was an angel in disguise—Pierola. It was a snail from Heaven. It breathed upon the prisoner, and his chains dropped away. It shone before his eyes, and the prison walls were burst asunder. Who has not experienced the revival of an almost forgotten memory, or a buried hope, by the suggestiveness of a familiar fragrance, wafted by some breezy, blossomy hillside, as a strain of distant music, like a bird's song, of some vivid hour of long years ago? "A flower-garden is a continuous open-air concert." What a visible romance settles over the vine-clad cottage as the eye of the traveler rests upon it. Beauty nestles among the roses, while the sun-shine and shadow play hide-and-seek amid the ivy leaves. Could architecture or art in any other form improve upon what simple taste and nature have done here.

The Troy Whig says: Ezra R. Hare, residing at No. 3 House Avenue was seized last Thursday with spasms and cramps, from which he recovered somewhat, but was again attacked on Tuesday, when Dr. Aiken was called, who found the man on his arrival in a state of collapse (or nearly powerless). The patient rapidly sank and died Tuesday night. Yesterday Dr. Aiken held an autopsy of the case, which revealed some novel and interesting facts. It appears that at some time Mr. Hare had swallowed an oat, which entering the stomach, had set red the appendix, caused ulceration of the organs of the stomach in immediate contact with the appendix. The oat finally worked its way through and perforated the appendix, which, combined with the ulcerations, caused death. The case proves the fact that people cannot be too careful about taking seeds of any kind into the stomach, as one lodging in the appendix would produce the same result.

It has seemed almost impossible in the past to introduce Sunday-schools into Russia, but it is reported that at least a foothold has been obtained. It is not, however, in the Greek Church—for there the opposition still resists all attempts—but among the Germans, in what is known as the "inner mission." A school which was started last year in St. Petersburg has constantly increased its membership, and every Saturday night holds a teachers' meeting. Another, located in Osborn Grocers', numbers around hundred pupils, and a third also in St. Petersburg is held in the house of a lady living far from the center of the city. Still another has been opened more recently in Havel, Eastland, and has fourteen teachers and a hundred pupils.

A WARNING TO GIRLS.—Beware of the man who does not know enough about cheerfulness to understand its value in daily life. Such a man would improve the first opportunity to grind the cheerfulness out of his home, to frighten a sunbeam into a shadow, and then wonder what is the matter. Such a husband is no better than no husband at all. When you want a husband go and find somebody else—somebody who will give you at least some chance to be happy far into the life beyond the honeymoon.

The author of the new song, "My home is on the Taming Sea," has lived, ever since he was born, at Fort Riley, Kansas, 1,800 miles from salt water, and he confessed, in a moment of rash confidence, to a newspaper reporter, that it makes him sick to sit in a rocking chair.

"Hatched from the grave" in Ohio does not mean a life lived by a new patent medicine or by an old doctor. It means exactly what it says, and follows the funeral.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, MARCH 9, 1880.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENCY.—L. F. Fisher, 21 Merchants' Exchange, is our Agent, and is authorized to contract for advertising, receive subscriptions and make collections on our account.

Telegraphic.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—A Seattle dispatch says that an engine and 18 coal cars were wrecked yesterday by the giving way of the trestle at Little Lake. A man named Stewart from Nasoni, was killed and several were injured.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—At 11 A. M. Weston, 57 miles; O'Leary 54 miles.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—Assembly.—Anthony presented petition from ladies in Santa Cruz, asking for equal rights in administering on estates, and for suffrage at school elections; and from a small number asking for universal suffrage.

Leave moved to reconsider the vote by which A. B. No. 109, permitting and authorizing railway and other corporations, organized under the laws of any State or territory to do business in this State on same terms as railways organized in this State, was finally passed on Saturday. After a short debate the roll was called, resulting, yeas, 49; nays, 39. The Speaker ruled that it would require a Constitutional majority of 41 to reconsider a bill passed.

WALLA WALLA, W. T., March 8.—The body of a man completely stripped, and with a bullet hole through his head, and marks of severe blows on his forehead, was found in Touchet river, a few miles below here yesterday. He was evidently stripped in order to destroy his identity. He is supposed to have been a cattle man.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Negotiations with the Utes were concluded yesterday. The formal agreement provides in the first paragraph on the part of the Indians, that they will procure the surrender of those of their nation implicated in the murder of Agent Meeker, and his employees, and in case they do not succeed in apprehending the parties, they will faithfully aid any officers of the U. S. directed to make arrests.

The second paragraph cedes the U. S. all the territory of the present Ute reservation in Colorado one quarter section, 160 acres of agricultural land, and a like quantity to each single person being set apart for the Indians. The southern Utes agree to settle upon the unoccupied agricultural lands on LaPala river, Colorado and New Mexico, or in that vicinity. The Uncompagres go to Grand River near the mouth of the Gunnison Colorado. The White River Utes will take up lands on the Mintah reservation Utah. The Indians are to select their own allotments of land in these locations. Provision is made for roads and highways. This agreement is entered into by the Ute chiefs who promise to obtain the consent of their people to the cession of their reservation upon the following express conditions, first, the Government to survey and patent to the Indians in severalty, the lands reserved to them, giving a simple title to each Indian, so soon as the necessary laws are passed by Congress. This title to remain inalienable and the lands not to be taxed for twenty five years. Second, that so soon as the consent of the nation shall have been obtained to this agreement, the annuities heretofore provided for by Congress, amounting at this time to $300,000, will be paid in cash, at request of the Indians. The President having discretion to pay it in cash, or in stock, wagons, agricultural implements, etc. The latter are to be furnished in sufficient quantity for their reasonable wants, and also such saw and grist mills as may be necessary, to enable them to commence farming operations as soon as the settlement is effected. A commissioner is to be appointed to superintend their settlement, and to attend to carrying out these agreements. The money appropriated by Congress for this purpose shall be apportioned as follows: one third to those who settle on LaPala River, one half to those on Grand River, and one sixth to those going on the Mintah reservation. In addition as pay for their lands, the Utes are to receive an annuity of $50,000 to be distributed among them per capita and their present annuity of $25,000 is to be continued.

WASHINGTON, Pa. March 8th.—The explosion of fire damp in shaft No. 2 East Manghook, on Friday afternoon, which resulted in the death of several men, was caused by a miner leaving the door open, thus breaking the air current. The gas accumulated, and ignited from a naked light conveyed by the mine boss. The bottom of the shaft was blown to pieces and the cars smashed. Three men were killed by the concussion, and two by concussion and burns. Three miners who attempted the rescue of the men were overcome by black damp and saved with difficulty.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Evening Star has the following: Wm. E. Chandler brushed against Star reporter to-day and was asked: You are a long headed politician, now who do you think the Democrats will nominate for the Presidency? "Who," said he, "why Tilden, they can't help it if they would; Tilden will be the Democratic nominee."

CHICAGO, March 8.—Being interviewed on the subject at Fort Wayne, Indiana, Mrs. Higley Lord denies that she is going to marry Charles O'Connor. She is fond of him as a lawyer, nothing more.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Four Musselmans villages have been put to flames, by order of a Russian officer, a Commander of Militia, who declared himself a Slavophile and bound to destroy the Turks. The movement was insurrectionary in character, but the insurgents have been already in great part dispersed.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—It is said, Sherman and his friends, have about decided to give up all hope of securing him the Republican nomination. Sherman is rather bitter against Grant, he thinks that if the ex-President had kept out of the fight, he, Sherman, could easily have beaten Blaine. His friends say that Sherman could defeat Grant's aspirations for a third term, by withdrawing immediately from the field, and throwing his strength for either Blaine or Washburne.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The House Committee on Coinage, have agreed to report favorably, Fort's bill to provide for exchange of trade dollars, for legal tender silver dollars. A provision was added, that the Secretary of the Treasury, shall cause to be exchanged at the Treasury, and at all the Sub Treasuries, legal tender silver dollars for trade dollars at par, and shall receive the trade dollar into legal tender dollars, and stop the further coinage of trade dollars, provided, the amount so redeemed and coined into legal tender dollars, shall not interfere with the minimum now authorized by law.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—General Howard, before the Senate select Committee on the Freedman's Bank, explained his personal accounts, which the books showed to be overdrawn $2,145. He claimed that the amount had been reduced by deposit slips and drafts, which do not appear on the books, to some $300, and this balance he could not admit or deny, owing to length of time since the transactions, and the fact that glaring errors and omissions had been discovered in keeping of the books. The failure, he said, was due to the high rate of interest paid on investments in real estate securities instead of Government, and the failure of Jay Gould, which rendered otherwise good securities almost worthless.

LOUISVILLE, March 8.—Thomas Boyd, 23 years of age, yesterday accomplished the feat of jumping from the bridge, which spans the Ohio at this point, into the falls below, a distance of 100 feet.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—It is ascertained, that removal of the arms, from the various armories of the companies of the 2nd Regiment, was done by direction of the Governor for their better protection.

In the Circuit Court this afternoon, Mr. Ashe concluded his argument, and a discussion ensued between Counsel and Court, on the subject of State control of corporations. Citizenden Thornton followed for the people, and spoke briefly, and drew the conclusion, from the National Banking act and State authorities, the State had the right to require all employees of a corporation to be citizens of the State. District Attorney Smoot closed for the people. He argued, that the preamble of the constitution of the U. S. secured certain blessings for ourselves and our prosperity, and that the treaty with China did not nullify the preamble. In making the treaty, China and the United States were bound to take notice of the right of a state to make the law under discussion. The right of self protection was not intended to be taken away. Mr. Bergein closes for petitioner to-morrow.

REVENUE BILL.

On Friday last the Revenue bill was before the Senate, when Senator West moved to amend Section 22, by allowing Boards of Supervisors to permit one-half of the taxes on real property to remain unpaid until July: which would virtually provide for semi-annual payment of taxes on real estate. After some discussion it was withdrawn. The new Constitution says that the Legislature may or must provide for a semi-annual payment of taxes, and it should do so. The time for the payment of our State and county taxes comes when everybody is short: it comes at a time of the year when business is dull throughout the State, it comes when money is unusually hard to be got hold of, and after the majority of our people have spent their loose change in providing the necessities of life to carry themselves and families through the Winter; and again, taxes are due just in the midst of the holiday season, when all of mankind desire to have a few dollars to enjoy the festivities; to give their wives and children some tokens of their love and affection, but the inexorable tax-collector comes along about Christmas and relieves the poor man of the few dollars he has saved. If we can have but one payment of taxes let it come when business is likely to be good; when the taxpayer has not had to spend his last dollar for wood, clothing, and provisions, to carry him through the Winter, as hundreds are obliged to do, particularly those who live in the mountains. We believe if our State and county taxes were collected semi-annually they would be more promptly paid and our delinquent lists be very light. The Constitution empowers the Legislature to provide for the payment of taxes by installments, and when that provision was made a part of the Constitution it met the approval of the people throughout the State, and knowing this to be true, it is the duty of the Legislature to enact a revenue law to cover its provisions and relieve the taxpayers of this State as much as possible.

POOR CALIFORNIA.—The New York Herald of Friday last says: Still the Chinese come, and California is made poorer every one who loses.

If that is so, California can bear up nobly under that kind of "poverty." Our Eastern friends are perfectly welcome to all the Chinese in California, if they want them. Let them settle in New York and live as they do in San Francisco, and New York will be blessed, in the summer season, with the yellow fever as bad as Memphis has been.

The BODIE CHRONICLE comes to us now as a daily, and a wide-awake, thriving journal it seems to be. Folger Brothers, the publishers, evidently know how to run a paper and that is more than to say they could run a hotel.—Pleaser Argus.

The equipment of this mine for deep development is now complete. An engine and bellows are being added to the powerful hoisting machinery to convey ore to the 400 and 500 foot levels, and in a short time a cage, of the latest improved pattern, will be running in the south compartment of the shaft. Stations at the 400 and 500 foot levels, are completed and drifting and crosscutting for ore veins will not be carried forward until the large slice of this company is thoroughly explored. Drifts will be driven northward to explore and prove the valuable bodies, known to exist near the croppings in that direction, and several hundred feet of ground lying north of the shaft, will also be explored by drifts and crosscuts beneath the heavy cap of sedimentary rock, which has been penetrated by the shaft and rendered exploration in the vein formation practicable. This portion of the ground is entirely unknown, and unexplored, except by the main south direction 400 foot level, and from which crosscuts will be started to explore the ore veins, both to the east and west. A drift on the same level is now being and, advanced 156 feet level, a crosscut has been started east to cut the veins lying in that direction. Quite a large force of men are now employed, and when the cage is in place and increasing the hoisting capacity, the force of men will be increased and sinking for the 500 level will be resumed.

DECEASED.—Eugene Pitney, father of E. B. Pitney, died here yesterday morning, aged 62 years. His death was not unexpected, as he had been in delicate health for some time. The deceased was highly respected, and a member of the I. O. O. F. His funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from Odd Fellows' Hall.

HEAVY STORM.—At about 5 o'clock this morning a snow storm set in from the northwest, and continued all day, the wind blowing a gale and drifting the snow badly. During last evening the stars were then put in appearance, but it was a rough night withal.

UNION MARKET.—Charles Kilgore has decorated the rack in an artistic manner by a fine display of meats, arranged so as to present a variegated picture, worthy of a meat artist. On Thursday last he slaughtered a hog, which weighed, dressed 499 pounds. It was a contribution from Omaha.

IN CHARGE.—Capt. A. C. Dunn, having gone to San Francisco, for a time, has placed the Maryleed Consolidated mine in charge of J. O. Beckstrum, who has been employed at that mine for some time, and is a thorough miner.

GETTING A DOWRY.—Our Mammoth City and Mill Creek friends are getting another big instalment of the "beautiful," but they must console themselves with the knowledge of the fact that the present fall of snow will have a tendency to work off the old snow.

DULL.—Yesterday was a decidedly dull gloomy day. The snow fell and the wind blew and everybody staid indoors, consequently there were no items ready to be picked up by an enterprising reporter.

BULLION SHIPMENTS.—Yesterday's shipments were as follows: Standard, $45,941.75; Bodie, $16,118.98; Noonday, $10,126.19, making a total of $71,486.82.

HE LEFT.—Barney McDonald, who was warned to leave town on Sunday night, of which we made mention yesterday, left town for Aurora on Sunday night.

ANY MORE?—Are any of our cotenans, anxious for another instalment—No. 3, of "Reminiscences?"

FINE CONFECTIONARY.—Mrs. Swan has opened a confectionery store in Abbott's building, on Main street, between Standard Avenue and Main street. She intends to keep a fresh supply at all times and at reasonable prices.

A monster oil tank is being erected at the foot of L street, Sacramento, for the Continental Oil and Transportation Company. Its capacity will be 30,000 gallons.

A School of Mechanics is to be established at Sacramento by Mrs. Mark Hopkins. It will be free for the boys of Sacramento.

CROSS S. CORVET, an old and highly respected citizen of Sacramento, mysteriously disappeared from his home on Wednesday evening last.

The Governor of Virginia has refused to sign the bill to repeal the debt of that State.

Telegraphic.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The Call tomorrow will publish the result of inquiries regarding recent movements in military circles in this city from which it appears that all the arms of the Second Regiment, National Guard, have been removed from the various company armories and deposited in the old City Hall, or central police station, where a guard of Lieutenant and 10 men of Co. F, Second Regiment, is kept over them. Companies B and C, of the First Regiment have been concentrated at the armory of the latter company, and the arms of Co. G, of Second Regiment have been placed in their charge. An officers guard, is now mounted nightly at the Armory of the Third Regiment, which is allowed to retain its arms. The Armory of the First Regiment is closely guarded and no one allowed to enter. The arms of the three cavalry companies have been removed from their armory, but to what locality is unknown, but probably to the old City Hall. Camp regulations have been established, and the grand rounds visit various points nightly. The arms of the Second Regiment only, have been removed from the armories, and guards are detailed every night to watch over other companies property. The Third Regiment has been concentrated at the old Olympic Club building, and those companies of the First Regiment not accommodated at the armory of Co. C are at regimental headquarters, corner of Howard and New Montgomery streets. General McDowell, commanding the Division of the Pacific, was telegraphed yesterday from Washington to bring all the available troops in his division to San Francisco, and a company, in all about 500 men, are already en route, with more to follow, probably 1,500 all together. It is impossible to find out by whose orders these military movements have been made, as officers refuse to give information, but are thought to be under the direction of Gen. McDowell, and are due to representations made to Washington in regard to the Chinese question, and that these precautions will be kept up till after the constitutional of the State law prohibiting the employment of Chinese by corporations is settled by the U. S. Courts. The Second Regiment is indignant at the removal of its arms as it has been a loyal regiment and always ready to uphold the law. The excuse for their removal is, that they were too much scattered, and liable to seizure if an unexpected outbreak should occur, and the measures now being taken are precautionary, and not intended to reflect on that regiment. The Workmen are considerably excited over these movements, and many of them assert that the authorities are hoping to force a quarrel on them; and others say that these movements are designed to bluff the Board of Health in the matter of condemning Chinatown; while still others assert that the whole thing is due to unfounded fears of the authorities.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Placards are being posted in prominent places about the city warning employers of Chinese to desist from that practice, and vaguely hinting at terrible consequences in the event of a refusal. Pointed reference is also made to the squandering of the unemployed, and signed by the Council of Thirteen. Company F, First Regular Cavalry, and a portion of Co. G, 8th Infantry, arrived this morning from Camp Halleck, Nevada, and proceeded to the Presidio.

WESTON and O'Leary walking match opened at one o'clock this morning, with a small attendance at the stand. Both are in excellent condition, and confident.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—In the Parrott case this morning, Davis Loderback spoke in behalf of the People. His argument in effect was, that the provisions of the 14th Amendment, and treaties, refer only to natural persons and not to corporations. He quoted from the old and new State Constitutions to show the rights reserved by the State in its dealings with corporations, and from a number of decisions in support of the proposition that the action of the State under its reserved powers does not trench upon the provisions of the Constitution of the United States in regard to the impairment of obligations and of contracts. He enlarged upon the absolute control possessed by the State over corporations, holding that the latter has only such rights attributes and capacities as are granted to it, and not those common to natural persons. He argued that not only Chinese, but also citizens, have not an inherent right to pursue any lawful business. Referring to restrictions imposed upon women and children in the matter of conducting various branches of business and following certain avocations; in depriving Chinese of the right to labor for corporations; his right to reside, travel and live in the country was not touched. Robert Ashe followed for the People. His argument was to the same general tenor, as preceding, developing upon the point that in the present case Chinese had made no complaint and the Court could not take cognizance of complaint made in their behalf by the petitioners. Recess.

The burning of the State Normal School building at San Jose, has set the people in different parts of the State almost beside themselves. Redding, Shasta, San Jose, Santa Rosa, Fresno, and perhaps a dozen other places want a Normal School.

The Republican County Central Committee of San Francisco have decided to do away with the primaries and appoint Delegates to the State Convention to be held in April.

In February the Idaho mine, at Grass Valley, produced $23,700, $3,000 over January. It has just paid its 127th dividend.
